

INTERIOR

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1876

A black cross X after your name in the margin of your paper, signifies the time for which you subscribe, has expired, and that you are requested to renew your subscription. A red cross indicates that your subscription remains unpaid, and you are paid for it.

TO-DAY'S ITEMS.

Percoats at E. B. Hayden's at $5.50 to $30.

The best Tobacco and Cigars the in City at the Postoffice.

Geo. D. Warren wants to buy 500 bushels of Irish potatoes.

Geo. D. Warren pays the highest market price for beef hides, etc.

Carson & Dodd's have re-opened their confectionery and oyster saloon.

When you visit Louisville do not fail to go to R. E. Cross & Co's, at 300 and 302, Market street, near Main.

Every community, town and city, has its judicious and successful men. Louisville has her quota of such men, among whom are R. E. Cross & Co.

Hotels are generally best known by the patronage they receive. The Carpenter House, Stanford, Ky., stands among the first for a very large and deserving patronage.

The change of time of the arrival and departure of trains at Stanford and Richmond Junction is noted in an advertisement of the L. & N. R. R. Co., in another column.

R. E. Cross & Co., make it a specialty to send samples of goods to any part of the country desired by customers, or those wishing goods in their line. Make a note of this and give them a trial once.

Something all want to know, is where they can spend their money to the greatest advantage when in pursuit of articles of necessity, which they require. By reference to the advertisements in this paper you can ascertain.

Notwithstanding the tightness in money matters, if Life Insurance Companies would offer property on the same terms as the Southern Mutual proposes to insure your life, every economical and industrious person would be the owner of nice property.

If times are hard, and you were to die under such circumstances, it would be still harder upon your family, unless you have a policy on your life in some good company like the Southern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Kentucky.

Those men who spend their money with the printer, to advertise their business, will not withhold it from efforts to procure latest styles and varieties, best materials and complete quantities, to meet the demands created by their advertisements.

The November number of the Home and School, published by Jno. P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Ky., has made its appearance, which we think the most interesting number that has appeared. It is full of interesting reading matter, containing much of educational interest.

I would respectfully announce to my old friends and customers that we have procured one of Hall's Patent Fire and Burglar Proof Safes, and can now assure them that all work left with me will be perfectly safe from fire or burglars. Asking a continuance of your patronage, I am, Respectfully,

THOS. RICHARDS.

Elder Carr's Lecture.

(Deferred).

Elder O. A. Carr, recently from Australia, delivered quite an interesting and instructive lecture in the Christian church Friday night, the 26th, on his travels through Egypt and the Holy Land. Placing his audience aboard ship on the Red Sea, he gave them a brisk sail, against head-winds, to Cairo, whence he took them a land journey to Alexandria, Joppa, Jerusalem, Bethlehem, the Dead Sea, Jordan, Jericho back to Jerusalem, and thence to Damascus, interspersing his descriptions with many interesting and some ludicrous incidents.

The inclement night robbed Elder Carr of the large audience he would assuredly have had under more favorable auspices, but the few there were highly entertained. The lecturer assured his audience, at the outset, that he appeared in an entirely new role, and proposed to simply give a running narrative, without further preparation than a few hours review of his notes of travel that forenoon. Time and space forbid that we give an outline of the lecture, were we able, as interesting incidents and descriptions were given in such rapid succession, we lost all recollection of their order in our abstracted audience, and were compelled to solicit a line of travel of a friend. Elder Carr certainly has materials for a series of instructive lectures, and were he to devote that time to the preparation of them he does to his sermons, we feel assured he would take that prominence as a lecturer he now enjoys as a minister.

Wise and Otherwise.

The JOURNAL's subscription list has increased just forty-nine since the announcement of the failure of Jay Cooke & Co. If the writers of the many letters we are receiving from every section of the country, and the expressions of approbation from our neighbors, friends and political opponents in our own county, are sincere, we have cause to be proud—and we are proud—of the position our paper has attained in the estimation of its readers. We believe there are but five or six individuals in the wide, wide world that don't extravagantly and sincerely admire the JOURNAL—and these would love and cherish it but for a foolish and wicked vow they once registered never to patronize the cursed, mean, hateful, bad-smelling, ugly, wretched, sinful, stingy, impolitic, ungovernable, unconquerable, impenetrable and indepen—or rather self-willed proprietors. God bless and prosper the generous friends and patrons of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, soften the stony hearts of its enemies, and forgive those who read it and don't pay.

A Menn Act.

Editors Interior Journal:

Please permit me to call the attention of those whom it may concern to a matter which needs to be referred. I refer to the taking of another person's hunting dog without permission. It is one of the meanest and most contemptible acts of which any one who has self-respect and common honesty can be guilty. One has no more right to take the dog of another and use him, than he has to take his horse and buggy, and no more right, if the dog comes to him voluntarily to use him than he has to use a stray horse. If something is not done by the law-making power to give redress in such cases, people will make a law to the emergency, and visit revenge upon all who wrong dogs.

By a judicious use of printer's ink Stanford merchants may repair the damage done to their trade by the conflagration. Let all business men try it.

Mr. J. J. Leavell, Esq., of Lancaster, Pa., writes:

very large.

They are doing well.

that our Mother

How do you

first blasphemous

mate that

were the

heel, we

A

ville

stand

and

pass

T

fair

ga

It

se

ling

tucky

We

ly, the

Colleges and

recommend

encouraging pop

department, as

prizes and rewards

A cabbage head,

weighing twenty-

JOURNAL sanctum

Mr. Kendrick Du

this county. In it

cases of colic, and

stake and rider a worm

leaves to San Francisco.

calif-heads that grace the

some of our rural coten

provement in their new

gratifying result.

The amount of superstition

is truly astonishing. Our headed citizen who has re

mercantile for agriculture

down town a day or two sp

cent weeding hoe across his

he deposited beneath a cou

return. He had taken the

it from his shoulder before

uncertain when ready to start

itnally asked: "Did I bring my shoulder?" Being assured claimed: "Golly, I'm ruined

do in the world. I must back and he did shoulder it and

the fears of those who witness

expect to miss his genial face

supper-club about the store

Tom or the Doctor come along

spooks.

As the season of selling goods

cities is about over, we may ex

within the next two weeks, quite

what is called "Drummers," for wholesale houses of our cities.

welcome such men, because we

they come on a good mission, and

merchants in order to offer them im

to buy their goods. We would onl

to them, that if they would herald t

"This is the way we long have sought."

At a mass meeting of the farmers and stock raisers of Garrard, in Lancaster, Nov. 4, 1873, John Y. Leavell, Esq., chairman, after a free and very satisfactory conference upon the practicability of organizing a home pork packing enterprise, the following resolutions were adopted and ordered published:

Resolved, That the counties of Madison, Garrard and Lincoln, being largely engaged in raising and fattening hogs, and believing that their interests can be greatly advanced by the erection of a Pork House, at some convenient point in one of said counties; that it is the sense of the meeting that a point in Lincoln county, on the river, near the Richmond Branch railroad, will be a suitable location for said Pork Packing Establishment. John Y. Leavell, Ben. F. Robinson, G. B. Dunn, Cyrus Doty, Thomas Anderson, Harrison Ray, Joe Simpson, E. Best and W. K. Doty, are appointed a committee to confer with the farmers and stock raisers of the said counties, and urge upon them the propriety and necessity of taking prompt and effective steps in furtherance of the ends contemplated.

Resolved, That said committee report promptly the result of its conference with the farmers and stock raisers of the counties aforesaid; and that they, in said report, suggest a plan or plans, upon which all can unite for the promotion of the common good.

We observe that the committee appointed is composed of men of practical worth and shrewd business qualities. That there is an urgent necessity for some action on the part of the producers of the counties mentioned for their protection against the rings and corners of wily speculators, there can be no doubt. We shall not express fully our opinion upon the subject until we learn something more definite in regard to the practicability of the plans which may be suggested by the projectors. We think the movement well timed, and the fundamental plan a capital one, and in behalf of the farmers of Lincoln county, thank the gentlemen who inaugurated it. We will suggest, however, that the most suitable point for the location of the Pork House, is at the Junction of the Richmond and Knoxville Branches of the L. & N. R. R., for many reasons, which we will give in the future. We would also suggest a serious difficulty in the way of such an enterprise, which is the disposal of the offal; and this difficulty can be obviated, we think, by having a front house in Louisville. Whatever is done in reference to the matter, should be done immediately. Farmers of Lincoln, give this subject your most serious and earnest attention.

Emigration Turning!

Cheap Farms in Southwest Missouri!

The Atlantic & Pacific Railroad Company offers 1,200,000 acres of land in Central and Southwest Missouri, at from $2 to $12 per acre, on seven years time, with free transportation from St. Louis to all purchasers. Climate, soil, timber, mineral wealth, schools, churches and law-abiding society invite emigrants from all points to this land of fruits and flowers. For particulars address, A. Tuck, Land Commissioner, St. Louis, Mo.

by J. J. Leavell, Esq., of Lancaster, Pa., writes: very large. They are doing well. that our Mother How do you first blasphemous mate that were the heel, we A ville stand and pass T fair ga It se ling tucky We ly, the Colleges and recommend encouraging pop department, as prizes and rewards A cabbage head, weighing twenty- JOURNAL sanctum Mr. Kendrick Du this county. In it cases of colic, and stake and rider a worm leaves to San Francisco. calif-heads that grace the some of our rural coten provement in their new gratifying result. The amount of superstition is truly astonishing. Our headed citizen who has re mercantile for agriculture down town a day or two sp cent weeding hoe across his he deposited beneath a cou return. He had taken the it from his shoulder before uncertain when ready to start itnally asked: "Did I bring my shoulder?" Being assured claimed: "Golly, I'm ruined do in the world. I must back and he did shoulder it and the fears of those who witness expect to miss his genial face supper-club about the store Tom or the Doctor come along spooks. As the season of selling goods cities is about over, we may ex within the next two weeks, quite what is called "Drummers," for wholesale houses of our cities. welcome such men, because we they come on a good mission, and merchants in order to offer them im to buy their goods. We would onl to them, that if they would herald t ing by an advertisement in the colum paper published in the county they in visit, the visit they make would prove advantage to them. At this season year it often occurs that the buyer of "out of town," and if he knew of the which the "Drummer" would come, he make it convenient to be at home. I sure, that you will lose nothing by giving an advertisement as to the time you will our town.

If you want to and enlarge your and through the pub